Hi Kiera,

I'm writing about the Jussie Smollett case. It's come to my attention that there's a state law saying that Kim Foxx may have made a mistake by letting Cook County assistants cut the deal to drop charges because the case should have been handled by a special prosecutor under state law. (See law below.) And not doing so should make the Smollett deal invalid.

I'd appreciate it if you could give me a call ASAP. Thanks,

Mark Konkol

Sec. 3-9008. Appointment of attorney to perform duties.

(a-10) The court on its own motion, or an interested person in a cause or proceeding, civil or criminal, may file a petition alleging that the State's Attorney has an actual conflict of interest in the cause or proceeding. The court shall consider the petition, any documents filed in response, and if necessary, grant a hearing to determine whether the State's Attorney has an actual conflict of interest in the cause or proceeding. If the court finds that the petitioner has proven by sufficient facts and evidence that the State's Attorney has an actual conflict of interest in a specific case, the court may appoint some competent attorney to prosecute or defend the cause or proceeding.

(a-15) Notwithstanding subsections (a-5) and (a-10) of this Section, the State's Attorney may file a petition to recuse himself or herself from a cause or proceeding for any other reason he or she deems appropriate and the court shall appoint a special prosecutor as provided in this Section.

(a-20) Prior to appointing a private attorney under this Section, the court shall contact public agencies, including, but not limited to, the Office of Attorney General, Office of the State's Attorneys Appellate Prosecutor, or local State's Attorney's Offices throughout the State, to determine a public prosecutor's availability to serve as a special prosecutor at no cost to the county and shall appoint a public agency if they are able and willing to accept the appointment. An attorney so appointed shall have the same power and authority in relation to the cause or proceeding as the State's Attorney would have if present and attending to the cause or proceedings.

Happy to weigh in.

It is my understanding that the State's Attorney did not formally recuse herself or the Office based on any actual conflict of interest. As a result, she did not have to seek the appointment of a special prosecutor under section 3-9008(a-15). Instead, in an abundance of caution, she informally separated herself from the decision-making over the case and left it to her Assistants, as happens in 99.9% of all cases handled by the Office. Although she used the term "recuse" when she announced her decision, it was a colloquial use of the term rather than in its legal sense.
