After nine weeks of intensive research, the North Shore Summer Project will release its findings, which show that the segregated society on the North Shore -- perpetuated and encouraged by realtors -- reflects the wishes of only a small percentage of North Shore residents.

A report will be distributed at this news conference, containing the facts, figures and conclusions of the summer's work.

The news conference will follow a rally in Bent Park which culminates a four-mile march from Kenilworth to Evanston. As the news conference is taking place, NSSP volunteers will begin an overnight vigil in front of the office of the Evanston-North Shore Board of Realtors, two blocks east, 3009 Central Street. The conclusion of this vigil marks the end of the North Shore Summer Project.
